Established now for many years, Nextra Orange is situated in the heart of the shopping precinct of Orange among other quality stores, offering excellent exposure and a high traffick location. Due to declining health the owners are seeking to retire.

The business has been substantially reshaped since it was purchased in 2000 by the existing owners. Being transformed from a traditional news agency to also include a wide selection of quality products/gifts for special occasions as well as every-day gifts. As a member of the Nextra marketing group a strong corporate look is provided with access to a range of products, buying po
