Pressure Forces Sale

This highly successful business for many years is now available for a new owner.

It thrives in a high-profile location and has many traditional repeat business clients. There is also a good team to manage the business if at times the owner wasn't there.

Consisting of all of the Shed space/offices/hard stand, plant and equipment that is required to run the business, and sufficient stock on site that meets the needs of the clients, this business would be perfect for husband and wife team or two partners that had mechanical or auto-electric experience.
