This iconic restaurant and bar is the social hub of a stunning seaside town on the Mid North Coast of New South Wales. Operating in its current form since 2009, the business is located 100 metres from the beach and is the only hospitality business of its kind in the township.

Perfectly located across from the beach, the business also benefits from being attached to a 38-room motel. Although it is a separate business the motel guests frequent this popular restaurant and bar along with the patrons of one of Australia's largest seaside caravan parks situated just across the road. The solid reputation and ideal central location with high visibility has ensured that the business has had little need for marketing or promotion. The business has ev
